Except as noted
THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

1. The Administrative Staff Training Section of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam (DRV) formerly had a student body of 200, most of whom were DRV army officers and students. The school was founded by CHUANG T'ien, commander of the Yunnan-Kwangsi Border Column. Beginning in July 1951 the South China Military Area took over operation of the school and expended it.¹
2. On 15 July the 8 Branch Factory of the Ordnance Bureau of the Chinese Communist Army was moved from Kweilin to Indochina. LO Ch'i-ching (羅啟), head of the factory, accompanied 630 military technicians, 4 large machines and a high-temperature steel furnace to Indochina.²
3. On 20 July the Chinese Communists sent the following arms from Hankow to Canton en route to the DRV: 10 tanks, 24 mobile guns and 30 heavy field batteries.

1. [Redacted] Comment. Presumably the school is in South China.
